Are you an ambitious, professional career woman who has worked tirelessly to create your 'perfect' career path but feel something is holding you back?

Do you now feel like you've reached a pinnacle or perhaps a barrier and cannot see any way forward?

Perhaps you're feeling isolated, disillusioned, exasperated, exhausted or just plain fed up?

Maybe it's time for you to strike out on your own?

Helping you advance or get back on track...

Career women all over the world often experience similar situations where they begin to lose sight of their career goals, question their own decisions and wonder whether it's all worth the effort.

This type of perpetuating self-doubt is often as a result of a lack of self-confidence or simple 'burn-out' and the reasons why this happens are manifold.

It could simply be that you no longer feel as passionate about your career as you used to, or you are finding it difficult to overcome a particular challenge.

It may just be a matter of being unable to find a balance between your work life and your personal life.

In many cases, it's about not being valued and not receiving the recognition or financial rewards you expect and fully deserve.

Whatever it is that's causing your unhappiness or disillusionment in your job or your life in general, you can be sure you are not alone.

Join other like-minded women and reap the benefits...

It's not always easy to share your frustrations with others, who don't really understand your particular circumstances, and that's why you should consider joining a community of like-minded women where you can...

- Learn to become a better leader
- Reinvent or advance your career
- Develop your personal brand
- Grow your network of business and friends
- Start your own business

Unlike typical networking, where you simply exchange business cards with people you don't know, and will probably never see again, our community is designed to help you get to know other women who share your passions... and your problems.

These are women just like you who have experienced similar situations and similar outcomes, similar setbacks and similar leadership challenges.

It's time to talk!

I'm Shivani Bhagi, and during my time working at a corporate level, I often wished I could confide in someone who might understand the pressures and challenges I was facing each and every day.

All I needed at times was a little help and advice, a listening ear and a guiding hand but there was no one I could turn to.

Now, in my capacity as an experienced career coach and leadership level corporate trainer, I meet strong, focused women who also tell me that a little support from other like-minded women plus access to essential resources would be highly beneficial to them in their working lives.

That's why this membership platform has been created. It is designed to ensure that career women have easy access to all the tools and resources they need, including support from experts like myself, who can offer practical and actionable advice.

By creating an all-encompassing community website for corporate women, I am simply joining the dots and encouraging career minded women at different levels and industries, to get together and share their experiences and challenges with each other, as well as what's working and what's not working for them.

What can our community offer you?

It's about making connections... and contributions.

It's about examining your own strengths and weaknesses by identifying similar traits in others...

It's about learning and growing and fulfilling your ambitions and goals...

And it's about becoming the best that you can possibly be without sacrificing your happiness or your social or personal life.

I have personally coached hundreds of career women and no two women are the same.

Each may have different aspirations but ultimately they are all looking for fulfilment and job satisfaction, recognition and financial reward that matches their efforts, and happiness, which comes from a healthy balance of work and personal life.

Who is our corporate member's club for?

Ideally, you're a career minded woman with at least 3 years' experience in corporate and who wants to advance your career and move up to the next level. Or perhaps you're looking to develop a new, purpose driven career.

Perhaps you're at the stage in your life where you are considering transitioning to a completely new career because you are not finding the fulfilment you expected in your current job role.

Maybe you are very happy to stay exactly where you are but would like to create an additional income stream from something else you are passionate about.

It could be that you've just had enough of the corporate life and now feel it's time to start out on your own, building a business that you will really enjoy.

If you think you fit any of these profiles, or if you just want to learn from those who are already making waves in high places then this is the platform for you.
