FEMALE TESTIMONIAL VIDEO

Most intolerance conditions are associated with a particular food or drink you consume and so finding a remedy is simply a matter of avoiding the products that make you feel unwell.

However, with so many possibilities, only an intolerance test can 100% accurately reveal the truth.

It seems many doctors won't prescribe the intolerance tests as a standard procedure, due to cost restraints on the NHS, so take the initiative and get tested anyway.

Even painful blood tests cannot reveal the true identify of any particular food intolerance... so why bother?

Our professional tests are 100% accurate and fully guaranteed so you have absolutely nothing to lose whatsoever.

MALE TESTIMONIAL VIDEO #2

Intolerance Lab is key to getting your life back on track and enjoying the simple things that the rest of us take for granted.

Intolerance Testing Can Reveal The Problems... We Can Provide The Possible Solutions

Intolerance Lab will carry out a full testing program on your hair sample, which might reveal a hidden food substance intolerance or a pet allergy, a dietary allergy or a household product allergy.

Intolerances and allergies are however, NOT the same. You could be affected by one or the other... or both.

A hair analysis test might reveal an intolerance to a specific type of food product, such as eggs or milk or something you would never otherwise be aware of.

Isn't it worth finding out exactly where your problem lies?

Check out the lists below to see for yourself the full range of food and non-food products we thoroughly test...
