

Voiceover script for www.outofhour.co.uk

Are you looking for a quality, reputable cleaning company in your local London area?

With so many cleaning companies to choose from... where do you start?

How will you know if the one you choose is going to be reliable... efficient... and will they give great value for money?

Will they have adequate insurance?

Will they have trained staff?

Will they comply with your company's health and safety requirements?

Do you even have time to sift through the dozens of cleaning company ads and websites... make endless telephone calls or send numerous emails with requests for quotes?

Relax!

Out of Hour is the specialist contract cleaning company comparison site that takes care of all your company's cleaning requirements.

All you have to do is complete a short online quote request form and we'll find you up to four suitably qualified, highly experienced, fully reliable and expertly vetted contract cleaning companies.

Our service is completely free and very professional... as you'll soon discover.

Simply contact us and we'll pass your details onto four independent cleaning contractors who will provide you with a detailed written quotation based on your exact requirements.

You can then decide with confidence who to hire and rest assured that whoever you select will deliver the service exactly as you would expect.

Need a cleaning company for evening or night cleaning?

No problem.

Need a cleaning company for early morning, day or weekend cleaning?

We've got that covered too.

Need a one-off clean or emergency clean? Get in touch.

For any type of office, industrial or commercial cleaning requirements, when and where you want... simply complete our online quote request form and we'll do the rest.

Our business is about finding the right quality cleaning solution for your business.

Complete your free quote request form now (Click here link)